

Anti-Islamophobia Support

RIWC now offers live support for women and non-binary people who have experienced a hate crime incident and wants to learn more about how to report a hate crime or find out more about resources in the community.

Islamophobic Incidents include:

- Physical violence or threats
- Verbal assaults
- Denial of service or different treatment
- Targeting by law enforcement, strangers, acquaintances, family/friends or authority figures

About RIWC

Established in 1982, Riverdale Immigrant Women's Centre is a community-based registered charity founded with a mission to empower racialized, immigrant and refugee women and their families. To find out more, you can visit us at www.riwc.ca.

ISLAMOPHOBIA SUPPORT LINE

Short-term Crisis Counselling

Our team of Peer Counsellors have been trained by Gernstein Crisis Centre to provide confidential and anonymous, short-term crisis counseling support for our callers.

Understanding Hate Crime

Our Peer Counsellors have been trained by SALCO and Toronto Police's Hate Crime Unit to provide callers with more information on hate crime support services. No information is shared with authorities unless requested.

In-House VAW Services

Our Support Line Peer Counsellors are supported by crisis counsellors from our Violence Against Women program for callers who need additional safety planning or long-term therapeutic support.

Referral Support

RIWC's Peer Counsellors also offer a range of wraparound support services to help Muslim women and youth with settlement, housing, anti-violence support and other relevant services.
